ABSTRACT

This publication provides comparative data on higher education institutions that are members of the Association of Theological Schools (ATS) in the United States and Canada. The tables and graphs are based on data supplied by the 226 Protestant, Roman Catholic, and Orthodox theological schools as reported on Annual Report Forms required by the ATS. Five chapters present data on: (1) institutional characteristics, such as the ratio of full-time faculty to part-time faculty, and ratio of full-time equivalent (FTE) students to FTE faculty, and the ratio of endowment to current funds expenditures; (2) enrollment, such as the ratio of applicants accepted to applicants matriculated, the age of students by gender and degree; (3) personnel compensation, including administrator and faculty compensation by institution size, denomination, and type of school; (4) finances, including tuition, overall revenue structure, and scholarship aid; and (5) development, including source and purposes of gifts. Appendixes contain information on denominational codes and table organization. (JB)

The Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada

The Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada (ATS) is recognized by the United States Department of Education and the Commission on Recognition of Postsecondary Accreditation for the accreditation of graduate, professional theological education. The Association began in 1918 as a conference of theological schools that met biennially. In 1936, it became an association, adopted standards for judging quality, and in 1938 established a list of accredited schools. During the 1994-95 academic year ATS was comprised of 226 Protestant, Roman Catholic, and Orthodox theological schools, reflecting a broad spectrum of denominational, ecclesiastical, and theological perspectives in North America.

The purpose of the Association is the improvement of theological education. It seeks to achieve that purpose through accreditation and program services for its member schools. Some of these services include fellowships and informational resources for faculty research and development; leadership development seminars for presidents, deans, and trustees; data collection and information services; publications including the Bulletin, bi-monthly newsletter Colloquy, and journal Theological Education; and numerous conferences and seminars for theological school personnel.

The Fact Book on Theological Education has been published annually since 1969. It provides statistical data on the ATS member schools in five areas: institutional characteristics, enrollment, personnel compensation, finances, and development. The Fact Book is compiled from annual reports submitted each year by the member schools.

INTRODUCTION

The Fact Book on Theological Education presents statistical data on various aspects of the member institutions of The Association of Theological Schools. The book is designed to facilitate comparative analysis and identify trends in five areas critical to institutional efforts in strategic planning and evaluation. Those areas are:

- Institutional Characteristics
- Enrollment
- Personnel Compensation
- Finances
- Development

Full-Time Equivalency Computation

Information on enrollment is reported according to head count (the total number of students enrolled) and full-time equivalency (FTE). The latter is calculated by ATS in the following two ways, in accordance with the Integrated Post-Secondary Data System (IPEDS) that is published by the United States Department of Education:

For all doctoral programs the FTE equals the Head Count (HC).

For all master-level programs FTE is computed in the following manner:

Divide the total number of credits required for the degree by the number of semesters or quarters prescribed for degree duration to determine the average academic load. To calculate FTE, divide the total of credit hours taken by all students in a given degree program in a semester or quarter by the average academic load for the same period of time.

For Example: An M.Div. degree requires 90 semester hours, and the school considers the degree to be typically six semesters. The average academic load would be 90 divided by 6, or 15 hours per semester. If all M.Div. students complete a total of 600 hours for the semester, and the average academic load is 15, then the FTE would be 600 divided by 15, or 40 students.

Racial/Ethnic Categories

ATS uses the racial/ethnic categories as defined by IPEDS. The definitions are as follows:

Non-Resident Alien: A person who is not a citizen or national of the United States or Canada and who is in the country on a visa or temporary basis and does not have the right to remain indefinitely.

Black, non-Hispanic: A person having origins in any of the black racial groups of Africa (except those of Hispanic origin).

American Indian or Alaskan Native: A person having origins in any of the original peoples of North America who maintains cultural identification through tribal affiliation or community recognition.

Asian or Pacific Islander: A person having origins in any of the original peoples of the Far East, Southeast Asia, the Indian Subcontinent, or Pacific Islands. This includes people from China, Japan, Korea, the Philippine Islands, American Samoa, India, and Vietnam.

Hispanic: A person of Mexican, Puerto Rican, Cuban, Central or South American, or other Spanish culture or origin, regardless of race.

White, non-Hispanic: A person having origins in any of the original peoples of Europe, North Africa, or the Middle East (except those of Hispanic origin).

Race/Ethnicity Unknown or Unavailable: A person whose race or ethnic identity is either unknown or information about that person is unavailable.

Comparing Data Over Time

Caution should be observed when comparing data over time.

Comparison of 1988-89 through 1993-94 editions of the Fact Book with those editions published earlier should be done very carefully, if at all. Reporting on the ATS Annual Report Forms changed in 1988, and the data reflect these changes.

The number of member schools is not constant. Changes in membership status are voted on at the Biennial Meeting, held in even-numbered years. Comparisons within a biennium therefore will be potentially more accurate.

Degree categories were re-organized in 1991 to reflect more accurately degree descriptions. Thus, degree categories from years 1991 and later cannot be compared with pre-1991 years, although they can be compared with each other.

Because of variations in the calculation of Full-Time Equivalent enrollment (FTE) since 1988, this edition of the Fact Book has recalculated FTE from prior years for accuracy of comparison with the current data. These changes make comparisons of FTE data in this Fact Book to editions before 1988 inaccurate.

CHAPTER 1: INSTITUTIONAL CHARACTERISTICS

HIGHLIGHTS

- Seven schools became new members of the Association in 1994. They reflect the diversity among ATS institutions: denominational, Roman Catholic, Orthodox, evangelical, both freestanding and university affiliated, in both the United States and Canada, and one with a student body drawn from a predominantly underrepresented ethnic community.
- Over the past decade the number of accredited schools as a percent of total membership has remained constant, around 85%.
- The majority of ATS members are freestanding, denominational schools in the United States with a predominantly white student body. Schools that do not fit this profile, however, are becoming a slightly larger presence in the Association. The percentage of schools that are not affiliated with a primary Protestant denomination (i.e., they are Roman Catholic, inter/nondenominational, or Orthodox) is increasing, as is the percentage of Canadian schools, and those with a student body drawn from underrepresented racial or ethnic groups.

ATS maintains three membership categories: accredited, candidate for accreditation, and associate. The figures in this table reflect the membership status current at the end of each calendar year. Descriptions of each category and the criteria for membership are listed in Bulletin 41, Part 1, Constitution and Dues Structure, Article IV, and Bulletin 41, Part 3, Procedures, Standards, and Criteria for Membership.

The following schools were admitted into their respective categories in the last calendar year.

Accredited: Dallas Theological Seminary, Dallas, TX; International School of Theology, San Bernardino, CA; Reformed Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Pittsburgh, PA

Candidate for Accreditation: Associated Canadian Theological Schools, Langley, BC; Beeson Divinity School, Birmingham, AL; Biblical Theological Seminary, Hatfield, PA; Edmonton Baptist Seminary, Edmonton, AB; Houston Graduate School of Theology, Houston, TX; St. Andrew's College, Saskatoon, SK; Shaw Divinity School, Raleigh, NC

Associate: Baptist Theological Seminary at Richmond, Richmond, VA; Briercrest Biblical Seminary, Caronport, SK; Gonzaga University Department of Religion, Spokane, WA; Grand Seminaire de Montreal, Institut de formation theologique de Montreal, Montreal, QC; Logos Evangelical Seminary, Pasadena, CA; Philadelphia Theological Seminary, Philadelphia, PA; St. Tikhon's Orthodox Theological Seminary, South Canaan, PA

TABLE 1.2

Table 1.2 contains the most recent data on selected institutional characteristics of each member school. The symbol "NR" indicates that the school did not report data in that category.

Status—The Association maintains three classes of membership: accredited (ACCR), candidate for accreditation (CAND), and associate (ASSC). Criteria for membership are listed in Bulletin 41, Part 3, Procedures, Standards, and Criteria for Membership. Status is reported as of the end of 1994.

U/I—University/College Affiliated or Independent/Freestanding. University affiliation is defined as schools of theology that are an integral part of a larger institution that possesses at least two other professional schools or departments at the graduate level. Schools in this category usually possess a broader range of resources than is available at Independent schools. The distinction, however, is not absolute. Some Independent schools have relationships with colleges or universities that provide access to similar resources.

Race—Each school identifies the predominant racial/ethnic identity of its enrolled students. For descriptions of categories, see the Introduction.

Prov(ince)/St(ate)—The geographical location of each school is identified using Postal Code abbreviations.

Church/Denom(ination)—Each school identifies its religious affiliation when it applies for membership. An explanation of the codes is found in Appendix 1. When a school indicates more than one denomination, the main denomination is listed.

Expenditures—The figures report fund expenditures in fiscal year 1993-94. Canadian schools report in Canadian dollars. United States schools report in United States dollars.

E&G—Total Educational and General Expenditures and Transfers, including instruction and net academic support, research, public service, library, student services, admissions, institutional support, operation and maintenance of plant, mandatory transfers and debt repayments, and scholarships and fellowships.

Total—E&G expenditures plus Auxiliary/Ancillary Enterprises.

Endowment—Most schools report the market value of endowment assets as of the end of fiscal year 1993-94. A few schools report book value instead. Canadian schools report in Canadian dollars. United States schools report in United States dollars.

Faculty—Faculty information is current as of fall 1994.

F.T.—Individuals receiving a full salary and who devote more than 50% of their time to teaching.

P.T.—Individuals who are either (1) teaching on a part-time basis throughout the year; (2) teaching part-time for a year or two; or (3) teaching full-time for only part of the year, except those on sabbatical leave and those who are on-site field supervisors.

F.T.E.—The full-time equivalency for faculty is derived by dividing the total number of courses taught by all part-time faculty by the average teaching load of a full-time faculty member and then adding to that the total of all reported full-time faculty.

Library Vol(ume)s—The total number of printed books, serials, and periodicals as of fall 1994.

Enrollment—The data report enrollment as of fall 1994.

H.C.—Head count enrollment is based on the total number of students enrolled.

F.T.E.—The equation for computing full-time equivalency is explained in the Introduction.

University Affiliated: This designation identifies those schools of theology that are an integral part of a larger institution that possesses at least two other professional schools or departments at the graduate level. Schools in this category usually possess a broader range of resources than is available at Independent schools. The distinction, however, is not absolute. Some Independent schools have other types of relationships with colleges or universities that provide access to similar resources.

Clusters: A complete list of clusters can be found in Bulletin 41, Part 4, Directory.

Primary racial/ethnic composition: Each school identifies the primary racial/ethnic composition of its student body.

- Asian: Logos Evangelical Seminary
- Black: American Baptist Seminary of the West, Hood Theological Seminary, Howard University School of Divinity, Interdenominational Theological Center, New York Theological Seminary, Payne Theological Seminary, Shaw Divinity School, Virginia Union University School of Theology
- Hispanic: Dominican Study Center of Bayamon Central University, Evangelical Seminary of Puerto Rico

Church/Denomination: Each school indicates its religious affiliation when applying for membership.

- Denominational schools: All schools that identify themselves as having an affiliation with a single or primary Protestant denomination
- Inter/Nondenominational: This category includes a broad range of schools, including those with multiple denominational affiliations and schools with no official denominational affiliation
- Roman Catholic: Diocesan, university departments of theology, and religious order (including union) seminaries in the United States and Canada
- Orthodox: Greek Orthodox and Orthodox Church in America

Member schools offer a variety of educational programs that are grouped into eight categories, five for degree programs and three others for certificates and diplomas. This table reports how many schools with accredited membership status offer one or more degree in each category. A complete listing of approved degrees is provided in the Introduction.

CHAPTER 2: ENROLLMENT

HIGHLIGHTS

- The total number of applications submitted for admittance to degree programs dropped slightly between 1993 and 1994. Only the professional masters and doctor of ministry categories showed an increase.
- The number of newly enrolled students declined between 1993 and 1994 in all degree categories, except professional masters.
- Students enrolled in Master of Divinity programs, the basic theological degree, have increased slightly over the past five years, at an average rate of approximately one percent per year. As a percentage of total enrollment, however, the number of M.Div. students is declining.
- The percentage of women and non-white students enrolled in degree programs in each category is growing, albeit slightly.
- There is a higher percentage of men enrolled in master of divinity, doctor of ministry, and advanced research degrees than women. Women enroll in professional and academic masters and certificate and diploma programs at a percentage higher than that for men.

3 Number of applications accepted divided by the number of applications received

4 Number of students who enrolled after being accepted.

5 Number of enrollees divided by the number of applications accepted

The application, acceptance, and enrollment figures are reported as of the fall of each year. Between 1993 and 1994, overall applications to approved degree programs at all member schools dropped 1.4%. The decline was far greater for university-affiliated schools. Their total declined by 16.3% compared with an increase of 1.7% for freestanding schools. The number of new enrollees also declined between 1993 and 1994. For all member schools the drop was 4.7%. Again, university-affiliated schools registered a reduction of 19.4% compared with a 1.1% decline for freestanding schools.

Further information on the specific degree programs in each category and the distinction between university-affiliated and freestanding schools is provided in the Introduction.

1 Current annual report forms do not request data in the standard degree categories used elsewhere in the Fact Book. The degree groupings used for these tables are as follows:

M.Div.	M.Div., pre-M.Div., non-degree
M.A.	All professional and academic masters degrees
D.Min.	D.Min. degree only
Other Docs.	Ed.D., D.Miss., D.Music, Ph.D., S.T.M., and Th.D.

2 All GPA scores are calculated on the standard four-point scale (A=4, B=3, C=2, D=1). Any GPA reported on a different scale was converted to this format. Canadian schools were asked to use the following table in converting grades based on a 100-point scale to the four-point scale

Percentage	Convert to

70-74	3.0

Theological schools assess applications for admission to degree programs with a variety of criteria. Tables 2.4 through 2.6 provide information on the two quantitative measurements used most: undergraduate grade point average (GPA) and the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) administered by the Educational Testing Service. These tables report the minimum GPA and GRE scores required for admission into these programs.

Tables 2.7 through 2.16 report fall head count and full-time equivalent enrollments in all member schools and in schools grouped according to their general church/denominational affiliation. The tables also indicate the percentage increase or decrease in enrollment from the previous year. The generally larger increases in enrollment during even-numbered years is partially the result of new schools becoming members of the Association in the year of the Biennial Meeting. A listing of specific degrees in each category is provided in the Introduction. For the Doctor of Ministry program the full-time equivalent enrollment is computed the same as head count enrollment even though the degree must be completed part-time over a period of at least three years.

AS A PERCENT OF TOTAL HEAD COUNT

Figures 2.1 and 2.2 report the percent of head count and full-time equivalent enrollments, respectively, in ATS member schools grouped by their church/denominational affiliation.

- Denominational schools: Schools that identify themselves as having an affiliation with a single or primary Protestant denomination. For a list of denominations, see the Introduction.
- Inter/Nondenominational: This category includes a broad range of schools, including those with multiple denominational affiliations and schools with no official denominational affiliation.
- Roman Catholic: Diocesan, university departments of theology, and order (including union) seminaries in the United States and Canada
- Orthodox: Greek Orthodox and those of the Orthodox Church in America. The head count and full-time equivalent enrollments in Orthodox schools represent less than one percent of total enrollment, and therefore are not represented in these two figures.

The percent of students in ATS schools who are enrolled in denominational and Roman Catholic schools has been declining for the past six years. At the same time, the percent of students in inter/nondenominational schools has risen. The trend is for a larger percentage of students to enroll in theological schools that do not possess an affiliation with a particular church or denomination.

1 In July, 1993 Goshen Biblical Seminary and Mennonite Biblical Seminary merged to form Associated Mennonite Biblical Seminary.

2 Three schools, Berkeley Divinity School at Yale University Divinity School, Bexley Hall at Colgate Rochester Divinity School, and Toronto School of Theology, do not report enrollment data.

Comparing head count enrollment for the same 206 schools with the head count at all member schools indicates that the increase in total head count enrollment over the past six years is largely the result of an increase in enrollment at existing member schools rather than the inclusion of students from new member schools.

2 Three schools, Berkeley Divinity School at Yale University Divinity School, Bexley Hall at Colgate Rochester Divinity School, and Toronto School of Theology, do not report enrollment data.

The ratio between full-time equivalent and head count enrollments reflects the relative numbers of full-time and part-time students—the smaller the number in the final column, the greater the number of students engaged in part-time studies. The limited changes that have occurred in the relation between full-time equivalent and head count enrollments over the past six years suggest that theological education, as a whole, is becoming neither more nor less a part-time enterprise.

Students enrolled in master of divinity programs constitute the plurality of students enrolled in theological schools. Over the past six years, however, their numbers as a proportion of the total enrollment have declined. The decrease is most prominent among Roman Catholic schools (46.40% in 1989 to 37.99% in 1994), followed by inter/nondenominational (39.50% to 34.73%), denominational (48.89% to 46.30%), and Orthodox (64.25% to 64.06%) schools.

FIGURES 2.5-2.9

Figures 2.5 through 2.9 report the head count enrollment of racial/ethnic groups by degree category as a percent of total enrollment in that category. No figure for Native Americans is included because the levels of enrollment are consistently below one percent in all degree categories. Over the past six years, the percent of students enrolled in theological schools who are white has been declining. This observation holds true for total enrollment and each degree category except Academic Masters. In the last two years the rate of decrease has slowed somewhat. The largest percentage increase in non-white enrollment has been among Asian Americans.

CHAPTER 3: PERSONNEL AND COMPENSATION

HIGHLIGHTS

- Between 1989 and 1994 the total number of full-time faculty increased 6.7%. This compares with a 16.0% increase in head count and 15.6% increase in full-time equivalent enrollments.
- The racial and ethnic composition of faculty at ATS schools has changed little since 1989. Asians, Blacks, and Hispanics represent a slightly larger proportion of total full-time faculty, but Whites remain nearly 90% of all full-time faculty.
- Women as a group have achieved a more significant presence among ATS faculties. The total number of full-time women faculty has risen 58.6% between 1989 and 1994, or as a percentage of total faculty, 48.7% during the same period. By comparison, the total number of full-time men faculty dropped 2.5%, or as a percentage of total faculty, 9.7% during the same period. Approximately half of full-time women faculty members are associated with one of the practical disciplines (e.g., worship, homiletics, pastoral counseling and care, religious education).
- Between 1992 and 1994, compensation for full-time faculty increased 8.1% in United States accredited schools and 4.3% in Canadian accredited schools.
- Between 1992 and 1994, compensation for the two senior administrators (Chief Executive Officer and Academic VP/Academic Dean) increased 5.5% in United States accredited schools and 3.4% in Canadian accredited schools.

Tables 3.2 provides data on the averages of total compensation earned by administrators and full-time faculty in United States accredited schools, during each academic year. Total compensation includes contract salary, contributed services, housing allowance (if any) or the rental value of housing provided, pension payments, medical and other insurance. The rate of inflation in the United States was 3.1% during 1992-93 and 2.8% during 1993-94.

Tables 3.2 and 3.3 are not directly comparable. Table 3.2 reports total compensation while 3.3 reports only salary. Moreover, Table 3.3 includes a greater diversity of institutions. With these caveats in mind, however, these two tables provide a practical comparison of compensation earned by administrators and faculty at theological schools and at other institutions of higher education.

United States and Canadian nonaccredited schools have been grouped together because of the small number of schools reporting. Canadian dollars have been converted to United States dollars at the rate as of July 1st of each year. The factor for converting Canadian dollars to United States dollars is as follows:

1992-93: 0.836
1993-94: 0.780
1994-95: 0.720

- ¹ Housing--housing allowance or the rental value of housing provided. This amount does not represent a pastor's nonreportable tax reduction for housing.
- ² Salary--contract salary and contributed services, if any, for 1994-95. Contributed services are an equivalent dollar value calculated for services rendered by a person to a school for which no monetary reimbursement is accepted.
- ³ Benefits--pension: the school's pension contribution; other: medical coverage, life insurance, auto furnished by the institution, etc.

Many ATS member schools provide housing benefits to their administrators and faculty. For most positions, the combination of salary plus housing benefits is greater than the salary of those who do not receive this benefit. Figures are reported in United States dollars with Canadian dollars converted at the rate of $0.720 U.S.

CHAPTER 4: FINANCES

HIGHLIGHTS

- Over the past six years, ATS schools as a group have seen the proportion of their revenues from tuition and fees grow while that from gifts and grants from religious organizations, income from endowment, and other investments decrease.
- As a general observation, schools with smaller endowments have had their endowments decline, while schools with larger endowments have experienced an increase in their endowments.

CHAPTER 5: DEVELOPMENT

HIGHLIGHTS

- Giving to theological schools, as a group, kept pace with inflation during 1993-94. Gifts from Individuals represented a slightly larger percentage of total giving in 1993-94 than in 1992-93.
- Individuals other than alumni/ae and religious organizations are the most significant financial contributors to theological schools.
- Most giving to theological schools is unrestricted. Gifts that are intended for specific purposes go primarily for student financial aid and academic programs (e.g., endowed chair).

Total giving to all member schools increased from $326,722,600 in 1992-93 to $351,006,400 in 1993-94, or 7.4%. A significant portion of this increase should be attributed to better reporting by the member schools. When taking the average, the amount of giving increased only from $1,593,000 in 1992-93 to $1,632,000 in 1993-94, or 2.4%.

Roman Catholic schools generally face different needs than Protestant seminaries. Diocesan seminaries in particular show a higher use of gifts for operational and maintenance of physical plant and lower uses for student financial aid. These schools often have large physical plants, while resources for student aid often come directly from the diocese.

Because of their unique relationship to a diocese or religious order, the Roman Catholic schools show the lowest amount of capital gifts for restricted endowments. Inter/Nondenominational schools are more dependent on income from restricted endowments because they do not have an external denominational base to which to appeal for support.
